

GOP Governors To Hear Ike

Oppose Any Move To Name '60 Nominee

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Republican governors attending the 49th annual conference of state chief executives generated strong opposition today to any action by President Eisenhower to designate the 1960 GOP presidential nominee.

Eisenhower will address the conference tonight in what is billed as a nonpolitical address, dealing primarily with relations between the federal government and the states.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California told a news conference Sunday that if Eisenhower believes it would be to the best interests of the Republican party and the country to indicate his support of a successor, Knight would welcome such an action.

But Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, who proposed Eisenhower's nomination to the 1952 GOP convention, said: "I don't think the President will do anything like that or should do anything like that." "That certainly would not be in the nature of President Eisenhower."

McKeldin, who has been suggested as a possible candidate himself, proposed Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Eisenhower's successor in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization command, as a possible nominee. Gruenther now is head of the American Red Cross.

McKeldin said he doubts that Vice President Nixon will get any nod from Eisenhower when the nomination is at stake.

Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois said he does not believe Eisenhower should or would attempt to pick a successor. He said he doubts any of those now mentioned prominently for the Republican nomination will survive the next three years of political maneuvering.

He said he regards Nixon as the "leading" candidate at this time. GOP Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho said he doesn't think the President can dictate the party nominee.

Republican Gov. Vernon W. Thomson of Wisconsin had the same idea.

Gov. John E. Davis of North Dakota said, "I think it would be proper for the President to assist us in selecting a nominee."

Democratic governors said they do not believe any member of their party has reached a commanding position in the early tactical maneuvers.

Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky was one of the few willing to acknowledge that he would be happy to become the party's nominee.

"Just say for me," Chandler said, "that if nominated I would accept and if elected I would serve."

Three Boys Confess Murder Of Father

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three boys Sunday confessed the murder of the father of one of them.

Police identified the son of a man who died in the Pennsylvania electric chair a little over two years ago as the member of the trio who actually pulled the trigger and pumped a slug from a .30-30 rifle into the chest of 35-year-old Martin Daniels Sr. as he sat on the stoop of his South Philadelphia home late Saturday night.

"It was a pretty cold operation — just like professional killers," said homicide Capt. David H. Roberts.

Roberts said the boys signed a statement declaring that the murder was planned for revenge by Daniels' 16-year-old son Martin Jr. after a violent quarrel Friday night.

In the statement, the boys said the Daniels youth turned over the death weapon to 14-year-old Curtis Raymond Edwards as they and Albert Stolis, 15, lay in ambush, in a cemetery across the street from the Daniels' row home. There they waited for the staved-over to come out of the house and sit on the front step, as he invariably did on hot summer nights.

Edwards' father Grover Cleveland Edwards was executed April 25, 1955, for the Aug. 31, 1952, murder of a retired south Philadelphia baker.

Former Publisher Of Salisbury Times Dies

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Richard P. Curtiss, former publisher of the Salisbury Times, died in a New York City Hospital Friday night. He was 58.

Curtiss had suffered from Parkinson's disease since 1951. His death in St. Barnabas Hospital followed a recent operation.

During the 1937-1952 period when Curtiss was publisher and business manager of the Eastern Shore daily, its circulation rose from 2,500 to 22,000. He had arranged for the purchase of the Times in 1937 by Brush - Moore Newspapers Inc. of Ohio.

Born in Buffalo, N.Y. Curtiss was a graduate of the University of Rochester and came here in 1936. He had worked for the Batavia, N.Y. Daily News and was Sunday editor, city editor and news editor of the Democrat and Chronicle in Rochester.

At various times, he had been a member of the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce, the Community Fund, the Delmarva Credit Bureau, Salisbury Rotary Club, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. and the Associated Press.

Curtiss is survived by his widow, Guinevere Clarkson Curtiss; two sons, Hilary R. and Alan C.; two daughters, Linda C. and Gail C., both of Salisbury, and a sister, Miss Dorothy W. Curtiss of Laurel, Del.

Steel Price Hike Predicted July 1

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Steel" Magazine said today steel prices are likely to go up July 1 when steelworkers get a wage increase, and "best bet is that the steel price rise will average $5 to $6 a ton."

The weekly journal of metal working estimated that gains under the three-year contract the steelworkers signed last year would add 17.1 cents a man hour to steel production costs next week.

An hourly wage boost of seven cents, a cost-of-living increase of four cents, and a 2.3-cent expenditures for Sunday premium rates are the larger items in the 17.1 package estimate, which "Steel" said means "steel production costs would go up $10.26 a ton."

"The July 1 wage boost cost is a little less than last year's," "Steel" said, and "demand for steel is lighter. So consumers, especially those in a profit squeeze, think prices shouldn't rise much. Third quarter steel earnings are higher than in the same period, 1956."

For these reasons, the journal predicted, the coming increase in base prices is expected to be under the $8.50-a-ton boost of last summer.

Last week the steel industry's operating rate slipped a half point to 88 per cent of capacity.

By the end of the first half-year, "Steel" said, the nation's mills will have produced 60,785,000 net tons, representing an average of about 91 per cent of capacity.

The rate for the second half of year probably will be lower, "Steel" said, because operations are swinging into the vacation season which cuts both production and consumption because of some plant-wide shutdowns.

COLUMBIANA — Rev. and Mrs. William J. Snyder of 233 Court St. will observe their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday with a reception from 7 to 9 p.m. in Westminster Hall of the Presbyterian Church.

They will be assisted by their daughter, Mrs. William L. Latham, and family of Youngstown, and the L. L. Class of the church.

Rev. Mr. Snyder, retired Presbyterian minister, was graduated from Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, 50 years ago, and immediately thereafter was united in marriage with Miss Erma Phillips, teacher in Youngstown schools.

The ceremony was performed at her home by the Rev. George M. Whitenack of Westminster Presbyterian Church of which she was a member.

Mr. Snyder spent 33 years in three Pennsylvania pastorates, at Imperial, Harrisville and West Elizabeth and Elrama, the last two places combined as one charge.

During World War I, he served with the Y.M.C.A. in England, Germany and Luxembourg.

In 1946 they came to Ohio, and before his retirement, Mr. Snyder supplied pulpits at New Waterford, Clarkson, Girard, Leetonia, and at Madison and Augusta churches in Columbiana county. He is secretary of the Columbiana Ministerial Association.

OFFICERS WILL be installed at the meeting of Firestone American Legion Post in the Legion home at 8 p.m. today. Robert Patchen, a member of Firestone Post, being the new commander of the 10th Ohio district, the installation will be conducted by Attorney Frank Beane of Canton, retiring district commander, a courtesy to him.

Recommendations of the post trustees for an increase in the annual dues and changes in regulations will be discussed. Volunteers to show the new car to be given away during the annual street fair and homecoming Sept. 5-7 are asked to contact Richard Winegard.

Ladies night will be observed by the Rotary Club at Dixon School at 6:30 p.m. today as the concluding meeting of the club year. New officers will be installed at the meeting Monday evening, July 1.

William E. Skadden, until recently executive secretary of the Illinois Welfare association, lecturer, writer and humorist, will be the speaker, his subject, "Marry and Be Merry." Mr. Skadden has served as relief chaplain in both the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives, as a marital relations counselor and as a radio commentator.

D. W. Bailey, retiring president of the club, who arranged the program, will be succeeded by I. P. Lewis.

MR. AND MRS. K. T. Gormley, Mr. and Mrs. John Backstrom and Dr. L. H. Nelson and family are attending the convention of Kiwanis International in Atlantic City. Mr. Gormley and Mr. Backstrom as delegates from the Columbiana club.

Questions, Answers On Social Security

Q — I suffered a severe stroke in 1952, and will never be able to do any kind of work. I am 61. I worked steadily under Social Security from the time it started to June 1952. Will I be eligible for disability benefits beginning for next month?

A — From the facts given in your letter, it appears you may be eligible, but only if you apply before the end of June. If you fail to contact your Social Security office immediately, not only will you be unable to qualify for Disability Insurance Benefits, but your retirement benefit at 65 will be reduced.

Q — I became unable to work in 1954. My disability is permanent. I worked under Social Security from the time I came out of service in 1945 to December of 1954. I will not be 50 until next May. What will I have to do to draw benefits at that time.

A — While you could not become entitled to payments until next May, you must take action before the end of June of this year to preserve your right to the future benefits. To be eligible at age 50, you must have established a "freeze" of your social security earnings record.

This is possible only if you file a "freeze" application which can be retroactive to a date when both requirements — the existence of a disability and the necessary history of recent covered work — were met.

Applications filed before the end of June can be retroactive to the earliest date both requirements were met. Applications for the freeze filed after June can go back only one year from the date of filing. In your case, if you apply to freeze after June, your "disability insured status" will have expired some time before the earliest retroactive date of the application, and the freeze will not be possible.

Q — How disabled do I have to be to qualify for Disability payments?

A — You must be unable to perform any substantial gainful activity as the result of a medically determinable physical or mental impairment which is expected to continue indefinitely. You must have been disabled a full six months.

Q — What is the work requirement for disability benefits?

A — The work requirement is the same as for the freeze. You must have had 20 quarters of coverage in the 40 calendar quarters immediately preceding the onset of your disability and 6 quarters of coverage in the last 13 quarters of that period. Roughly, this means 5 years of covered work in the last 10 years, and a year and a half in the last three.

In order to afford disabled workers an additional opportunity to protect their right to present and future benefits, the Youngstown District Office will be open to the public on Saturday, June 29. The office is located at 123 W. Commerce St., Youngstown.

Washingtonville

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kornbau are the parents of a daughter, Maureen Ann, born Friday at the Salem City Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark of Globe Arizona and

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kornbau of RD, Leetonia are grandparents.

Forty children of the community attended Bible School at the Locust Grove Baptist Church and will sing the songs they learned at the morning services at the Methodist Church.

Father's Day was observed at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. Danny Carlisle gave the "Welcome to Fathers." A short program was held and gifts were presented to Ralph Hall of Columbiana as the oldest father present, to Robert Kornbau as the youngest father present, and to Bobbie Carlisle as youngest son present.

Members of the Busy Bee Class of the Methodist Church held a coverd picnic at the church recently with 18 members present. Games and contests entertained at the social period.

Decade Of Taft-Hartley

It is significant that on the tenth anniversary of the Taft-Hartley Act's passage over President Truman's veto there is more public support for its principle than there was on June 23, 1947.

The vote for its passage over the presidential veto was 68 to 25 in the Senate and 331 to 83 in the House. It would be no smaller today.

The movement which was agitated so long and so tirelessly by the unions to repeal it outright or to cripple it with weakening amendments has died out.

If the law were to be opened for amendments today, they would be aimed at strengthening the principle that both labor unions and management should be held fully responsible for their conduct.

The amendments would be framed with a view to their effect on the whole subject of labor relations. They would not be dictated by their unions or management. They would not be prejudicial to the rights of either.

Although it is still too soon to say that the affairs of labor and management have been stabilized as far as federal law is concerned, it can be said without fear of successful contradiction that a sense of proportion and equity has been established.

The excesses of the union-baiters of the past have been outlawed. The excesses of the management-baiters have been outlawed. The United States has found where the principle of equal protection lies and is determined to keep it from being uprooted by new excesses.

After 10 years, the Taft-Hartley Act stands substantially without amendment, and no substantial change is likely in the near future. The law may be refined, but it will not be supplanted.

Implying And Inferring

Remembering the trouble our English teacher had when she tried to explain "imply" and "infer," we have no hope of clearing up the confusion in official press conferences.

But when Washington correspondents inferred from a White House news conference remark that President Eisenhower had implied a willingness to ban nuclear fission and fusion tests without first reaching a disarmament agreement, it was a prime example of the mischief the confusion can cause.

The English teacher, as we recall her futile attempts, tried to show that a thing is implied when it is said indirectly, as when Ohio's Frank Lausche once said it would be something less than the truth to say he did not vote for the late Robert A. Taft for the U.S. Senate.

A thing is inferred, on the other hand, when it is assumed to have been implied, as when many Ohioans inferred Frank Lausche must be a Republican at heart because he implied he had voted for a Republican senatorial candidate.

People who make a habit of inferring usually have one of two motives. They want to make something seem to be true that they suspect is false, or they want to make something seem to be false that they suspect is true. Politicians are always fair game for the inferers, which is as it should be because politicians rely heavily on implications.

As teacher used to say, it's a tricky thing to keep straightened out.

Either Way, South Loses

You can get a bet in Washington that the Dixie senators getting ready to filibuster this year's civil-rights bill are going to lose. That would be news. It also would be a shock to northern senators who depend on these long-winded Dixie ding-dongs to dramatize the civil-rights issue and make votes for northerners in the next election.

The pending bill, which has been passed by the House and is ready for Senate debate whenever the northerners are ready to let the southerners filibuster, confronts the South with a political dilemma. Whether the bill passes or is filibustered to death, the South must lose. It is a bill to give voting rights to Negroes.

Every southern politician who has balked at giving Negroes this right already is marked for extinction if Negroes are permitted to vote in places where they have been kept away from the polls.

Every southern politician who still balks making political capital for northern politicians and thereby weakening the influence of the South in Washington, where the voting-right issue eventually will be settled according to the 15th amendment to the Constitution. That is the one that says the right of citizens to vote shall not be denied or abridged by any state and goes on to say that "Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

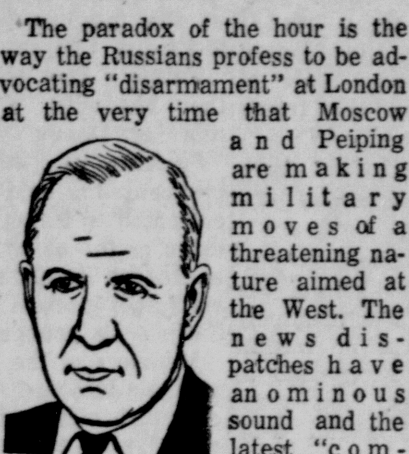

The amendment was put into effect 87 years ago. This might be the year that Congress will pass "appropriate legislation."

The real feminine touch, that's what dad's gonna get from mom for all the shrubs she wants put in.

Russian Arms Buildup Belies Disarmament Talk

David Lawrence

The paradox of the hour is the way the Russians profess to be advocating "disarmament" at London at the very time that Moscow and Peiping are making military moves of a threatening nature aimed at the West. The news dispatches have an ominous sound and the latest "communiqué" on the "cold war" reads as follows:

1. Egypt has been furnished three Soviet submarines to help patrol the Mediterranean and keep a watchful eye on the U.S. Sixth Fleet. Israel thinks the move may be directed at her shipping and is preparing countermeasures.

2. A Soviet cruiser and two escort vessels have just passed through the Turkish straits to the Mediterranean and several more cruisers and destroyers of the Soviet navy are scheduled to pass through the same waterway soon.

3. The Russian navy has turned Albania into an armed camp, posing a threat to Allied strategy in the Mediterranean submarine bases, according to press reports, have been built less than 50 miles from the Italian shore and a large naval base in Albania has been "fortified and enlarged."

A network of five airfields capable of handling jet planes has been established.

4. The United Nations command in Korea has at last been authorized to tell the Red Chinese formally that, because the armistice agreement has been violated by the Communist forces, it becomes necessary for the U.N. units to be given "modern weapons" to offset the advantage.

Both the North Koreans and the Chinese Communists have illegally introduced new weapons into the area they hold north of the armistice line.

5. THE CHINESE Communists are building up more airfields for jet planes opposite Formosa and considerable nervousness has reappeared in the area.

All this doesn't sound as if tensions are being removed. It gives the impression that the London talks are just part of a sparring match going on to fix responsibility by one side or the other for a possible breakdown.

The Russians, of course, get a big propaganda advantage in the world at large out of their pose as seekers of peace.

It helps to quiet the fears of their own people and enables the Moscow strategists at the same time to keep up constant criticism of the West by seizing every sign of a difference of opinion and magnifying it to make it appear that the Allies are disunited.

Actually, the negotiations are so delicate that it is a matter of deep regret that President Eisenhower permitted any discussion of the disarmament problem at his press conference.

THE PRESIDENT talks informally and likes to answer the newsmen, but every syllable he utters should have been written out in advance. Off-the-cuff comments on foreign affairs are dangerous.

Press Secretary Hagerty had to straighten out a misapprehension gained by the reporters from an over-condensed statement in which the President made on disarmament. Moscow radio took advantage of the episode.

When finally cleared up, it turned out that Mr. Eisenhower had not deviated from the agreed-upon line with the Allies.

Meanwhile, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Democratic leader, has come part way toward "cooperation" with the President and the disarmament mission headed by Harold Stassen.

The Texas senator says he will agree to let some Democratic senators go to London provided he gets a "formal request" from the President.

Even so, the senators are merely to be "observers" and not members of the mission.

JOHNSON SEEMS to feel that senators cannot "participate" in the mission itself or share any "responsibility" for the decisions made, since the United States doesn't have a parliamentary system and the constitution calls for a separation of the legislative and executive. But this is splitting hairs.

Either the senators who go along do so with the knowledge that they will help formulate a treaty they can recommend to the Senate for its "advice and consent," or they tell the other members of the mission at London during the negotiations that they will not so recommend and why.

The idea of any senators going on a foreign mission and remaining aloof and inarticulate, so that those diplomats doing the negotiating of a treaty do not know whether or not the senators present will approve or disapprove when they go back home to vote, will be regarded as a piece of political chicanery that does not reflect a whole-hearted desire to cooperate.

THERE WAS NOTHING in the Constitution which prevented Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, Republican, from helping the administration of President Truman, Democrat, to negotiate the United Nations Charter Treaty at San Francisco.

So there is nothing in the Constitution today which prevents a Democratic senator from helping to negotiate a treaty for President Eisenhower, Republican.

It's only necessary that the senators concerned should not receive any pay from the executive branch of the government for such services, and then they will be conforming to all constitutional requirements.

Men Of Action

By TRUMAN TWILL

When the chips are down and it is time to fish or cut bait, give me the man who can climb a power pole in the middle of a blizzard to fix an electric line;

Who can stand in muddy water up to his waist and probe with a ditch-digger's shovel for a broken water line;

Who can make a quick diagnosis of a frayed electric pump and bring back life-giving water to a parched leashed-in RFD;

Who can grab hold of a set of tools and make a conked-out jalopy sputter and quiver with high-octane energy;

Who can insert a crowbar at the precise point of leverage where something is bound to move, give it a businesslike thrust and get things moving;

Who does not stand around and wish he could do something but does something, even if he only picks up the bench in a piano-moving operation;

Who knows how to build a fire when no one has remembered to bring along a bundle of old newspapers;

Who has the knack of throwing together something palatable and digestible when it is time to eat and there is no restaurant within 50 miles;

Who never wastes time wringing his hands and pulling on his earlobe but remembers where the pressure points are and stops a hemorrhage after an accident;

Who can grasp the engineering principles of a block and tackle and rig up the necessary where withal to move the seemingly immovable;

Who wraps his calloused dukes around the handles of a post-hole digger and makes the dirt fly instead of wishing for a labor-saving contrivance;

Who can stick his knees under a typewriter and put down the story one word at a time without flying to pieces under pressure;

Who knows how to step into a tangled situation without stumbling and start to restore order out of chaos;

Who does not plead poverty when the wolf is at the door demanding payment but peels off a 20 to appease the beast;

Who knows where to look for the bandages, the stimulants, the needle and thread, the fuse box and the shut-off valve when there is no time to spare;

Who wastes no time in dreaming but goes after the fact when the facts are needed and there is no more time to talk;

Who can climb up on the seat of a bulldozer and make the dirt fly if that is the first order of business;

Who can come to bat in the bottom of the last of the 9th with the score tied and a man on base with a fair prospect of rapping out a single;

Who always knows which end of everything to grab hold of, which foot to lead off with, what comes first and where to look for the matches when the lights go out.

These are the men of action! They keep this country from falling apart.

A New Role

Professor Vs. Jurist

By RAYMOND MOLEY

In considering the cases recently decided by the Supreme Court, in which various methods of the control of communism are dealt with, it may be well to begin by differentiating between the cases.

Most of the cases involved matters which clearly had to do with the proper function of the courts in their interpretation and application of the laws.

This involves what is called the science of jurisprudence, which the standard dictionary defines as "the science by which the laws and constitutions of states, written or unwritten, are reduced to system, and their principles analyzed, methodized, expounded, and judicially applied."

THIS ASPECT of public policy was involved in the case of the conviction of the five California Communists under the Smith Act.

The Watkins case, however, involved another science, the science of politics, which is defined in the same dictionary as "that branch of civics that treats of the principles of civil government and the conduct of state affairs; the administration of public affairs in the interest of the peace, prosperity, and safety of the state; statecraft; political science; in a wide sense embracing the science of government and civil polity."

I venture to suggest that the Watkins case was a matter in which the court usurped jurisdiction and that Congress has every right under the Constitution to ignore it.

The Supreme Court in decreeing what the procedure of a congressional committee should be, was outside its province and was crossing the boundary separating the branches of government.

FOR A VERY special reason I will quote from Justice Frankfurter's concurring opinion in the Watkins case:

"The scope of inquiry that a committee is authorized to pursue must be defined with sufficiently unambiguous clarity to safeguard a witness from the hazards of vagueness in the enforcement of the criminal process against which the due process clause protects."

In other words, the court is assuming the right to dictate to Congress what its methods of inquiry should be.

Now since there is a more apt reply to this at hand than anything I might write, permit me to present a quotation therefrom: "The proper scope and methods of procedure appropriate to congressional investigations depend on the conception of the part they play in enabling Congress to discharge its basic duties."

That authority goes on to say that there is no legal protection due to unfettered speech... only moral and social pressure.

"For the same reason, congressional inquiry ought not to be fettered by advance rigidities, because in the light of experience there can be no reasonable doubt that such curtailment would make effective investigation should remain what it is. No limitations should be imposed by congressional legislation or standing rules.

"THE POWER of investigation should be left untrammelled, and the methods and forms should be left for determination of Congress and its committees, as each situation arises.

"The safeguards against abuse and folly are to be looked for in the forces of responsibility which are operating from within Congress, and are generated from within."

My authority, upon which I am willing to rest my case, is Prof. Felix Frankfurter, writing about the Walsh and Wheeler investigations in the early 1920's.

The article, entitled "Hands Off the Investigations," was published in the New Republic May 21, 1924. Prof. Frankfurter and Justice Frankfurter are the same person, looking in the one case at a labor union official, and in the other at certain businessmen and public officials.

Supreme Court Takes Rest

By DAVID BARNETT

The constitutional lawyers are about to get the period of "continuity and established order in law" they crave: The Supreme Court hopes to close down for the summer by July 1, after handling some 1,400 cases this term.

To the lawyers, the vacation means no more momentous Monday decision days for a few months. In recent years, what some critics call the new "revolutionary tribunal" has upset hundreds of legal eagles by unexpected decisions in such diverse fields as civil rights, public school systems, sports, and big business.

The corporation lawyers had to reach for the aspirin just this month when a majority of the court, in the case against the Du Pont Company, threw out the rule book used by corporations and government lawyers for 40 years in dealing with the question of when one company could legally buy stock in another.

And this week's decisions on Communist cases and government firings will demand reassessment of procedures by the Justice Department and Congress itself.

To the justices, the summer recess means a chance to travel, or to rest or settle down in a new home. For some, it means continued work, but at a more leisurely pace.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, a hunter and fisherman plans to go back to his home state of California for the judiciary circuit conference. Next month, he will attend the American Bar Association sessions in London. While abroad, the chief justice hopes to work in a few days of touring in Scotland and Ireland.

The court's number one traveler, Justice William O. Douglas, is off with his wife for the Middle East. They plan to drive by station wagon from Karachi to Istanbul.

Justice Harold Burton and his family are going ancestor-hunting in Switzerland. The justice's grandfather, on his mother's side, was the first Swiss consul to the United States.

Justice Tom Clark and his wife hope to get in a trip to home country — Dallas — before sailing July 17 for a Bar Association meeting in London. After the meeting, the couple plans to make the grand European tour.

Justice John Harlan also expects to attend the Bar meeting in London.

Justice Hugo Black is a winter vacation man. During the summer recess, he remains at his home in Alexandria, Va., making frequent use of his own tennis court. He regularly turns up at his court office to take care of correspondence. Usually, he vacations in Miami, during the winter recess, which this year, was in February.

Justice Felix Frankfurter, at 74 the oldest member of the court, also will remain in Washington.

The two newest members of the court will stay in the United States. Justice and Mrs. Charles E. Whittaker will go to Kansas City to dispose of their former home and then will return to Washington to "get settled," as the justice's secretary put it.

Justice William Brennan, the pipe-smoking Democrat named by President Eisenhower last October also will spend the summer making adjustment to his new role as a member of the top judicial body in the country.

Urges School Support

Protestants must give more thought and energy to the task of releasing Christianity's leavening powers through the public-school system, according to Dr. Ganse Little, president of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education.

The public school, committed to the inherent worth of the child and insistent that the search for truth be dedicated and unfettered, "is thus wide open to the infiltration of profoundly Christian influence and motivation," he declared before the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church U.S.A. in Omaha.

Dr. Little asserted that Protestant Christians must find a deeper "sense of vocation about our relationship to the schools as parents, students, teachers, administrators, school board members, citizens who vote school bonds and pay taxes.

Once Over

The Gals And Homework

A national poll of Girl Scouts shows that only three out of every hundred wanted to become housewives, although almost all hoped to marry.

Why bother with a poll, when this has been obvious for some time in this age of automobile, motorboat and general entertainment dominance?

The wife and mother who raised a flock of kids, did her own washing and ironing, whipped up three squares per day and found time to make the beds, mop the floors, raise a vegetable garden and help mow the lawn is a vanished American.

She would have been flabbergasted if in her day it had been suggested that she was overdoing things and should switch from the old homestead chores to the open road and from the broom, dishpan and washtub to the world of hardtops, motor tours, picnic parks and all-around luxury procedures.

THE OLD-FASHIONED mother not only was a Lady Hercules around the house but in some cases curried the horse, greased the buggy, raised chickens and took a hand at digging a well.

Her emancipation has been wonderful and nobody wants the old days back. . . She grew weary, bent and old fast and often worked herself into an early grave.

A high point of social progress has been her freedom from grim toil by the development of modern kitchens, washing machines, electric dish-cleaners and push-button housework. . . All of which is fine and dandy. . . But she wouldn't believe it if she could come back and see the 1957 mommer, enjoying a TV soap opera while the housework went on via electricity: driving to the butcher market for a pound of liver in a six-passenger car, studying a pamphlet for a "Built It Yourself Two Car Garage," taking a flyer through a batch of road maps and murmuring "Don't be silly" to the airwave ballyhoo man who opens his commercial with "Are you a slave to housework?"

(We heretofore anticipate the flood of denunciations letters from the womenfolk and drop ourself a note saying, "You big bum. Where do you get off saying women have it soft? You are an ignorant propagandist for the return of enslavement of wives and mothers. Go jump off a dock.")

COURT RULING

Urge a revolution—
Teach the Red routine—
(This is highly proper
If you "keep it clean";)
Advocate it loudly— A
This is quite okay
If you have no schedule
For a certain day).
Blitz your Uncle Sammie—
Ask his overthrow;
If you've no timetable
Nothing's wrong, you know;
Sneer at all he stands for,
Leer and grin and boo. . .
It's all right, provided
YOU don't follow through.
Teach a revolution—
Give Khrushchev a cheer—
Let another lead it
And you need not fear;
Stand for overthrowing—
(It is good clean fun
If you're in the background
When the deed is done.)

IN ALL THESE LENGTHY high court decisions showing great concern for better treatment of witnesses in Red probes, did you note a paragraph or word about the routine of sneers, leers and contemptuous defiance which U.S. senators have to stand for day after day? The verbatim scrips of Senate inquiries reveal a pattern of arrogant loud and persistent abuse from witnesses and their lawyers which you have to read to believe.

Nazis Killed 4½ Million In 1940's

Jews Are Gradually Returning To Germany

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—The long way back is slow and often painful, but the Jews are returning to Germany.

Not in great numbers, for to many Jews the very name of Germany remains an object of hatred. They recall that the Nazis killed 4½ million Jews in the early 40s. Of that number, 180,000 were German Jews.

In this beautiful city on the Rhine, the German Jews have set up a council whose basic job is to help the returning fugitives settle comfortably into new homes.

The man who runs the council is a lawyer from Berlin, Dr. Hendrik van Dam. He fled Germany during the reign of terror and returned a decade ago.

"The people who come back should have no feeling of resentment, nor should they have any pro-German sentimentality," says Dr. van Dam.

"Jews with such sentiments can live peacefully outside Germany, but there is no place for them here."

He says the present-day Jewish population of Germany is about 30,000, of whom some 2,500 live in Communist East Germany.

This is a handful compared to the bustling, influential Jewish community of 600,000 in Germany before the rise of Hitler.

Last year alone, he reports, the number of Jews in Germany increased by 2,000. The larger proportion of the returnees came from Israel, where they found their economic opportunities restricted.

Van Dam says the Jews now living in Germany have been assimilated quietly and peaceably into the German community. He was lavish in his praise of the Bonn government's role in easing their return.

Each returning Jew receives a minimum of 6,000 marks ($1,500) in compensation from the federal

Restaurant Operator Killed By Assailant

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—Alvin (Mickey) Poland, 45, operator of a restaurant in nearby Byesville, was shot and killed as he stood on the front porch of his home Sunday night.

Forrest C. Warden, Guernsey County sheriff, said he is holding Dorahn Gibbs, 28, of Byesville, in connection with the shooting but said he did not know if a formal charge has been placed against Gibbs.

Warden said Gibbs was taken into custody by Byesville Marshal Clarence Hammond, who said a charge will be filed against Gibbs. The State Highway Patrol said it had a report that Gibbs was taken into custody at a tavern in Byesville shortly after the blast from a 16-gauge shotgun struck Poland in the head.

Hammond was unable to supply a motive for the killing. Hammond said Poland, operator of Mickey's Restaurant, was called to his front porch about 10:30 p. m. The shotgun blast was fired almost immediately, from close range, Hammond said.

Mrs. Charles W. Ward

Howard-Ward Vows Heard In Ceremony At Mansfield

A wedding arch of white gladioli and asters, combined with huckleberry foliage provided the setting for the marriage Saturday afternoon of Miss Elizabeth Ann Howard to Charles W. Ward in the Mansfield First Presbyterian Church.

Two seven branch candelabra and palms banked the chancel with beauty baskets of pink gladioli and blue delphiniums placed on either side.

Dr. James H. Brown, pastor, officiated at the single ring ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Howard of 585 Cook Road, Mansfield, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Ward of 816 N. Lincoln Ave.

Organist R. Dale Peiffer of Mansfield played nuptial melodies. Wears Swiss Organdy

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of imported Swiss embroidered organdy in the floor length. A three tier bouffant skirt of embroidered wide organdy ruffles was featured on the bridal dress.

A wattleau-shaped hat of organdy which featured a circlet of seed pearls as trim was worn by the bride. An arrangement of stephanotis and a white orchid corsage tied with white satin shower ribbons was placed on her Bible.

Maid of honor was Miss Gail Traver of Worthington, college roommate of the bride, while her attendant was Miss Dorothy Jahn of Blue Island, Ill., the bride's sorority sister.

Both wore gowns of turquoise blue organza with white embroidered eyelet organza overdresses. Cumberbunds of turquoise organza banded the waistline and formed large bows in back. The matching headpieces were two wheels of petals of French illusion with small hands over the top of the head and circular nose veils. Both carried blue lace fans with garlands of pink sweetheart roses and blue delphinium florets.

John E. Gay of Galion was the best man and ushers were Richard Cobourn and Albert Falk of Salem.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Howard wore a beige linen sheath dress with georgette and white embroidered trim and white accessories. She wore a purple hybrid orchid.

Mrs. Ward chose a lavender and white print of nylon with white accessories. She was wearing a purple hybrid orchid.

Reception at Church One hundred guests attended the bridal reception held in the church parlors when Mrs. Richard Cobourn and Mrs. Albert Falk of Salem served the guests.

At the guest book was Miss Kathleen Cowles of Park Ridge, Ill., cousin of bride, who registered the guests who came from Park Ridge, Blue Island, Wooster, Canton, Galion, Worthington, Salem, Crestline and East Liverpool.

When the couple departed for a honeymoon trip, the bride wore a white linen sheath dress with coral and white accessories.

A graduate of Mansfield Senior High School, Mrs. Ward attended Bowling Green State University where she was a member of Chi Omega sorority. Ward who served four years in the Air Force is a Salem High School and Bowling Green University graduate. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, and is employed in the engineering department of Miller-Holzwarth Inc.

After July 15 the couple will be at home at 990 Franklin Ave.

539 Attend Lisbon Church Observance

LISBON — Five hundred and thirty-nine attended the First Presbyterian Church sesquicentennial service Sunday morning.

Rev. P. W. MacCauley, pastor of the church from 1919 to 1927 and now chaplain at a state mental hospital in Cleveland, spoke on the "Church of Yesterday."

Robert Baker sang a solo and the choir sang a hymn.

The next service will be Tuesday evening at 8 and will be conducted by the Women's Association.

Historical exhibits in the Sunday School room received much attention from the many visitors who attended the service.

Multiple Sclerosis Chapter Is Formed

Salem is expected to become a "key center" of the Mahoning, Trumbull and Columbiana County organization of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

This was pointed out today by Mrs. Darrel Fadley, of 654 E. Third St., a charter member of the Youngstown Chapter which was organized recently. A second meeting is planned in July.

Cecil Jones of Youngstown is chairman of the chapter and Cecil North, also of that city, is vice chairman.

The area organization, which is designed to help people afflicted with multiple sclerosis, will include local directors.

protect voting and other rights. The chief new weapon would be power for the attorney general to seek federal court injunctions against violations or threatened violations of such rights.

Because of the inaction of the Senate committee, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California invoked a seldom-used Senate rule to place the House measure directly on the Senate calendar and thus by pass the Judiciary Committee.

The Senate upheld this procedure 45-39 last Thursday despite the protests of Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) leader of the Dixie forces, and others who contended it would undermine the Senate's committee system of considering legislation.

While any senator now can move at any time to call the House bill up for debate, an agreement has been reached among the leaders not to try to do so before July 8.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) served notice over the weekend that any motion to take up the measure "will bring forth prolonged debate — to be blunt, a filibuster."

This has been taken for granted by supporters of the bill, and the key question is whether they can muster the 64 votes required to choke off a filibuster.

dangers from the radioactivity already released.

But the three scientists accompanying Strauss to the White House, were emphatic in stating that all the H-bomb tests to date have produced harmless and "negligible" quantities of radioactivity. Teller said they informed the President solely about technical developments, without discussing policy questions such as discontinuance of testing or disarmament.

The scientists also, Teller said, told Eisenhower "what we hope and plan to accomplish in the coming year, if we continue to work."

Would Not Elaborate

He would not elaborate on the last phrase, even when asked whether the "if" meant if the tests are not discontinued.

When asked if he could state what the future holds with respect to clean nuclear weapons, Teller said: "The future is even more classified than the past."

Lawrence, asked whether he believed the weapons tests should be continued, replied, "Of course."

Strauss and the scientists conferred briefly when asked whether this country would continue to keep "dirty weapons" as well as clean ones in its arsenal, and then decided not to answer.

When asked why some distinguished scientists have sounded warnings about the buildup of radioactivity resulting from weapons testing, Lawrence replied: "I just don't understand it."

East Liverpool Man Fined For Beating Son

Ohio Law

will be checked by the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles through all the courts in the state. Forms used by courts in reporting traffic cases will be used to start the new system.

Failure to comply with the new law will be grounds for removal of court officers.

In cases involving manslaughter, driving while drunk or drugged, failure to stop after an accident and driving while a license is suspended or revoked, six points will be assessed. Three points will be assessed for reckless driving and two for speeding and other moving traffic violations.

The bureau will send a warning to drivers when they accumulate more than five points.

When a driver amasses 12 points within two years from the time the count started, the registrar will ask common pleas court in the driver's home county to suspend his license for a year as an "habitual" traffic violator. Courts will make the decision whether to suspend the driving rights or place the 12-point driver on probation.

Accumulated points will be erased after serving the penalty but a new driving test can be demanded. Violations no longer will be noted on the back of driving licenses under the new system.

Attorneys said points will not be assessed in cases arising before signing of the new law on convictions after its effective date.

Traffic points will be reported by all courts of record and those of mayors. So will new county courts that go into operation next Jan. 1. But after Jan. 1, 1960, mayors no longer will have jurisdiction in traffic violations occurring on state highways within their municipalities. Their jurisdiction will be limited to traffic ordinance violations on other streets and roads in their towns.

Hungry Thief Invades Swim Pool Concession

Lloyd Scott of 1761 N. Ellsworth Ave. reported to police at 1:16 p.m. Saturday that someone had stolen $2 worth of pretzels from the concession stand at Centennial Park swimming pool sometime between 10 p.m. Friday and 1 p.m. Saturday. It wasn't determined how much other food stuff had been stolen.

Scott, a lifeguard at the pool, discovered the theft when he was opening the pool for the day.

Police said entry was made by forcing open a solid board window and sliding a serving screen window open.

Four Pay Fines To Mayor For Violations

Four persons were fined a total of $231 Saturday and Sunday for traffic violations, Mayor Dean Cramer said today.

Cite Requirements For Judge Aspirants

EAST LIVERPOOL — The Columbiana County Election Board today announced the signature requirements and filing fees for prospective candidates for the three county judgeships which will be filled at the November 5 election.

As the candidates will run on a districtwide basis, their petitions will require a minimum of 310 electors' signatures. The salary will be $3,631 a year. If commissioners exercise the option to give an additional $1,500 to each judge, an additional $5 will be added to the filing fee.

The election board emphasized that the candidates will be elected by the entire county, not by the individual districts. The filing fee is based on one half of one per cent of the salary. The signature requirement for a petition is based on one per cent of the vote cast in the affected area for governor at the last general election.

Court-Martial

Last November Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson issued an order limiting the Army to development of a 200-mile missile.

At the time the Army had in the works the Jupiter missile, which later flew 1,650 miles in 17½ minutes and which is the only reported successful flight of a ballistic missile beyond 200 miles.

In the aftermath of the Wilson order, Nickerson wrote his now famed "Comments on the Wilson Memoranda," which the Army maintains continued top secret information.

This writing, plus three subsequent documents, were distributed to editors, congressmen, a newspaper columnist and industrial men.

Nickerson, supporting his argument with technical data, contended that in the race with Russia to produce an IRBM and an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM), the Army was far ahead of the other services.

In distributing his arguments Nickerson admittedly sought to focus public attention on the missile program — and the Army's role therein.

At a brief news conference yesterday, Nickerson said in commenting on his impending trial, "I am confident of the outcome."

He specified that he meant his own personal situation.

The trial, which is to be held in a low, long and hot frame building just inside the main gate at the Redstone Arsenal is to produce testimony from some of the nation's top missile men, including Dr. Werner von Braun, director of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency and one of the developers of the German V2 rocket in World War II.

Would Leave 2 Categories

The commission also proposed elimination of the "confidential" classification for government documents, leaving only "secret" and "top secret" categories.

It said dangers to national security arise from over secrecy which it said "retards scientific and technological progress."

However, it also called for a bill to make it unlawful for "any person" who obtained "secret" or "top secret" information in atomic or other fields "to communicate" it to anyone else not authorized to receive such information.

At present, the law bars only government employees from disclosing such information.

A strong protest was entered by V. M. Newton, managing editor of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune. Newton also is chairman of the National Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity.

Newton said the recommendation "applying to the free American press is an outrage and an insult to the free American people."

Charles A. King, president of the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors, denounced the proposal, saying the press "by and large has forged an unparalleled record of cooperation in security matters." King is managing editor of the Utica Observer-Dispatch.

Biggest Atom Bomb Of Series Exploded

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. — The fifth shot of the current nuclear test series went off with a spectacular bang over Frenchman Flat at 6:30 this morning.

The blast was well above nominal in size and was the largest so far of the current series. The fireball, as seen from the observation point used by newsmen, rose above the horizon and formed what looked like a massive cauliflower head.

The nuclear device was exploded from a balloon about 700 feet above the desert. More than 850 military observers and a number of Civil Defense officials witnessed the explosion. The military men were in trenches about 4,500 yards from Ground Zero.

The exact size of the blast was not disclosed, but the Atomic Energy Commission had said earlier that it would be above 20 kilotons, or more powerful than the bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki during World War II.

Among the active participants in today's shot were 835 pigs. Some of them were covered with material used in military clothing, which was to be examined to determine how it had been affected by radiation.

The pigs were strung out at varying distances from Ground Zero. They were to be examined in an effort to learn more about treatment of injuries resulting from heat, radiation and pressure. Bomb shelters also were set up for testing and food was exposed to learn how it would be affected so far of the current series.

You (Women) Can Glamorize Neglected Outdoor Furniture

If you've been nagging the man of the house to rejuvenate your outdoor furniture, and haven't put anything more over than the sound of your voice, don't despair. You can do the project yourself and with less wear and tear on your disposition than it takes to be a straw boss.

It's never too late to refurbish outdoor furniture, even if you've begun to use beat-up items. If you don't do the job this year, you'll be stuck with a bigger project next year.

Choose a cool day to do the job. Equip yourself with paint brush or vacuum cleaner spray attachment and a good mixture of paint.

Metal furniture requires a more thorough refinishing job, usually, as all rust and roughness must be removed before applying paint. An ordinary kitchen scouring pad should do the trick. Sandpaper may be required if the metal furniture has been neglected for a long time or left out all winter long.

WHETHER YOU PLAN to refinish wood or metal you'll need a weather-resistant exterior enamel for your furniture. Metals need primer coats for most paints. If wood is to be painted, cracks and nail holes must be filled in and an enamel undercoat put on. It is important to make sure paint is free from lumps before you begin the painting job.

One new enamel offers handsome effects in multi-colored paint that may fall like liquid polka dots over outdoor metal furniture when sprayed on. This new paint is weather hardy, and chip resistant, available in finishes that resemble leather, marble, granite or even cork, depending on the mixture used.

RED AND WHITE mixed together does not make the usual pink, but retains its red and white individuality, going on in streaks or polka dots.

The painted piece may be washed clean in a jiffy, and will not be hurt by harsh abrasives. No priming coat is required.

Fix-It Forum

Q — Is there any special device on the market for use in placing screws for driving in hard-to-get-at positions?

A — Investigate possibilities of the screw driver with a twin-pronged device that is mounted on shaft of the tool. It can be slipped down over the point and it holds the screw in place until you have it well started. You can also push screw through a strip of paper or light cardboard and use the material as a handle until screw is partially driven. Tear loose, and complete job of driving screw home.

DO . . . restore a shellac finish by cleaning the surface first with a cloth dampened in turpentine in order to remove any old wax or dirt.

DO . . . mix two parts of paraffin oil with one part of white shellac, dampen a steel wool pad with the mixture and rub with the grain, keeping the pad in constant motion.

DO . . . wipe the restored finish with a lintless cloth and apply a coat of wax.

DO . . . if you aren't sure whether the original finish was shellac, wipe a small hidden area of it with denatured alcohol — which will soften shellac but have no effect on other finishes.

DON'T . . . forget that the above instructions are for restoring a shellac finish and not for a complete refinishing, which is necessary if the old surface is cracked or chipped.

DON'T . . . wash a shellac finish with either water, which may turn it white, or alcohol, which will soften it.

Tidbits Of Interest To Homeowners

If you own a house — or plan on buying one — some or all of these tidbits should be of interest to you:

Despite all the publicity on the subject, it's estimated that only one home owner in every 15 has placed informative tags on all the shut-off water valves in the house so that the right one can be located quickly in an emergency. . . .

Several builders in Long Island, New York, are now offering home buyers an iron-clad guarantee of a full refund of their down payment after one year if they are dissatisfied for any reason whatever. . . .

When you move into a new house, don't paint any of the galvanized metal until it has "weathered" for at least six months, although a satisfactory job can be done before that time if the metal is washed with household vinegar. . . .

In having a house built, you can often save money on the cost of the floors by using a cheaper (but just as durable) grade of flooring in rooms where you plan on using wall-to-wall carpeting. . . .

Purchasers of FHA - insured homes are now guaranteed additional protection on their investments by the agency's adoption of new, tighter standards for aluminum windows, including specifications of the Aluminum Window Manufacturers Assn. . . .

Two predictions: "Metal - clad homes in rainbow colors will come into their own this year, representing the biggest change in private home design in 50 years," says M. Jesse Salton, president of a leading producer of porcelain metal panels. . . . and "Electricity will be as commonly accepted for heating homes during the coming 10 years as gas and oil are now," says R. E. Pequignot, a spokesman for electric heating manufacturers. . . .

In about 2,500 counties in the United States where conventional financing for home modernization is difficult to arrange, the Veterans Administration will make direct, low-interest loans to ex-GI's. . . .

When making a picket fence, the easiest way to get accurate spacing is to use one of the pickets for the purpose: nail a picket to the cross rails, place another picket alongside it, nail the next picket, move the spacer, and so on. . . .

19 Building Permits Listed For Month

Nineteen building permits issued through June 20 have totaled $50,700 in construction costs, Mayor Dean Cranmer said today.

Receiving permits thus far in June have been: R. J. McConner, 785 Aetna St., screen-in porch, $500; Robert Zeck, 636 Washington Ave., enclosure porch, $300; Hack and Wukotich, 1885 Fairview Court, five-room house, $10,000; Anthony Todarello, Jefferson St., brick house, $10,000;

Herron Transfer, 1026 Franklin Ave., addition to office, $3,000; Bessie Ewing, 989 W. State St., new back porch, $400; Gerald and Mildred Loudon, 592 Perry St., one-car garage, $800; Doris M. Stratton, 1199 Buckeye Ave., two-car garage, $600; Ugo Pucci, 448 S. Lundy Ave., remodel garage, $200; Ed and Lois Votaw, 1535 Southeast Blvd., one-car garage, $700.

Martin Carlos, 972 Liberty St., enclosure front porch, $950; Joseph Fisher, 988 Adams St., five-room house, $8,000; James and Susie Herron, 1231 Maple St., re-side with aluminum siding, $900.

H. and L. Hughes, 424 S. Madison, two-room addition, $700; Leah Burton, 540 Reilly St., re-side house, $1,700; Harold Wolfe, 548 Reilly St., re-side house and enclosure porch, $2,250; John Hurter, 639 Euclid, re-side house, $1,000; Mike Kozar, 861 Newgarden Ave., one and one-half car garage, $700; and George and Regina Theiss, Homewood Ave., four-room house, $8,000.

Cite Storage Space Needed, Buyers Urged

Buyers of new homes should carefully consider in advance the amount of storage space they will require for comfortable, convenient living, says the Institute of Home Designers.

"One of the major regrets of young home-owners especially is that they seriously underestimated the equipment requiring storage space which a growing family needs," the institute says.

Among commonly - overlooked items which must be stored indoors for at least one season, it lists lawn mowers, storm doors, windows, and screens, gardening tools, painting equipment, baby carriages, bicycles, scooters, golf bags and other sports equipment, sleds, skis, beach umbrellas, picnic equipment and lawn furniture.

"In many sections after the war, young couples bought small homes with little storage area," the institute says. "Valuable equipment often was left outdoors all winter long because there was no room for it in the house. Many of these couples are now in the market for new homes and their first requirement is adequate storage."

"To provide ample storage space within the average home-seeker's budget, many builders now are concentrating entirely on homes with full basements. Basement space costs about $1.25 per square foot, compared with $14 to $16 per square foot of floor space built above ground."

"A full basement doubles the floor space of a one-story home. Provided with its own separate entrance to the outdoors, which makes it easy to bring equipment in and out, it is the ideal answer to storage problems. A basement not only has space for all a family's out-of-season goods but usually has additional room for the family television and rumpus room, workshop and laundry."

"As our standard of living rises the need for storage room will become even greater. Former luxuries are becoming necessities. A typical home-buyer today will soon need space for air conditioning unit, food freezer, clothes dryer and other large appliances."

The Irish settlers of Londonderry, N.H., introduced the Irish potato into New England.

New Building Material To Sheathe Skyscraper

Another new building material, architectural bronze, will make its debut on Park Avenue where it will completely sheathe the 38-story Seagram building now under construction.

Heavy masonry walls have given way to lightweight curtains of glass and metal in several new skyscrapers. Stainless steel was used for the exterior of the Socony-Vacuum building. Various other towers are covered with aluminum.

HOW DOES IT FEEL TO PLAN FOR A COFFIN?

40,000 heartbroken families will know—because of traffic accidents this year, unless all of us do something about it!

- A car collision.
- A child struck down.
- A hit-and-run case.

However it happens, the tragedy is the same! And this tragedy will be repeated 40,000 times this year, in traffic accidents all over America, according to the present accident rate.

Yet, in your community and everywhere else, these Napoleons of the road can be halted!

All it needs is your cooperation . . . cooperation that can save your own life, or the life of someone in your family.

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP STOP TRAFFIC DEATHS NOW

First—Drive safely and sensibly yourself. Keep alert. Watch traffic and pedestrians. Observe speed limits and warning signs. Where drivers are careful and obey the law, deaths go DOWN!

Second—Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. Traffic regulations work for you, not against you.

In one state alone—in just 3 months—deaths fell 14%, while national rates climbed 11%! It was done by automatically suspending licenses—by banning potential killers from the road! Wherever traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

Third—Ask for better policing, better road signs and signals, better safety training in your schools. Talk to your church, PTA or civic group—and to your newspaper and radio or TV station—they'll help to back a community-wide safety program.

Fourth—Call on your local or state safety council for help. They're in your telephone book—or your newspaper can put you in touch. They'll work with your group to help you get things done.

THE IMPORTANT THING IS TO START! Clip this page. For free reprints, write Local Safety Council or "Stop Accidents Campaign," National Safety Council, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 11, Illinois. Use them to help get your neighbors together to do something about safety enforcement. Where everyone understands the law—and the urgent need for uniform laws and enforcement—DEATHS WILL GO DOWN!

Cleveland Indians Sweep Two From Washington 14-2, 7-5

Rap 6 Pitchers For 31 Hits

Tribe To Open Series With Yanks Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians will be gunning for a measure of revenge when they open a three-game series with the New York Yankees Tuesday.

Still fresh in the Tribe's memory is their encounter with the Bronx Bombers. The Yanks, who were supposedly in a slump, exploded for 48 hits and scored 34 runs as they swept three games from the completely subdued Indians.

Since the Yankees' revival in Cleveland they have been burning up the league. Winners in 10 of their last 11 games, the Yanks have replaced the Chicago White Sox as the American League Leaders.

The Indians are expecting tougher competition from New York than they got from the cellar-dwelling Washington Senators Sunday.

Rapping six Washington pitchers for 31 hits, the Tribe took both ends of the Sunday double-header.

Early Wynn coasted to his ninth victory in the first game as the tribe collected 19 hits, a season's record for one game, and scored a 14-2 victory.

Gene Woodling led the blistering Indians' attack. He slammed an inside-the-park home run, two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate. He added a triple and a single in the second game.

Vic Wertz chipped in with a homer and a double good for three runs in the first game.

Four Washington hurlers trooped to the mound with Ted Abernathy, the starter, being charged with the loss.

The Tribe won the second game 7-5 on the strength of Ray Narleski's three-run homer in the eighth. It was his first homer in the major leagues.

Narleski was pitching in relief of starter Mike Garcia, who was credited with his fourth victory.

The Indians trailed 2-1 until the sixth inning when Chico Carrasquel's double scored Dick Williams.

Don Mossi will pitch Tuesday opening game against the Yankees followed by Bob Lemon and Wynn.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—

Carolyn Winkoff, Middletown, Ohio, was top seeded for the Southern Girls and Junior Tennis Tournament which opens here today.

She is defending junior champion. The Southern Girls Tournament will continue through the week with finals Saturday afternoon.

The companion Tennessee Valley Invitational Tournament opens Tuesday with finals set for Sunday.

Paul Harney Wins Top Prize In Flint Open Tournament

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Because he borrowed a hot putter and remembered the wise words of PGA champion Jack Burke Jr., young Paul Harney had his first big golf paycheck today.

The 27-year-old Holy Cross graduate of Bolton, Mass., put on a stirring finish to win the $5,700 top prize in the $37,000 Flint Open Sunday and his first major victory in three years on the tournament tour.

Harney's putting was sour when he came to this 72-hole event and he borrowed one from a PGA official. The results were good. When he shot a one-over-par on the front nine of the final round, he remembered what Burke told him not long ago:

"When you're in doubt, take the lesser club and smack it as hard as you can."

"That's exactly what I did, too," said Harney, who toured the back-nine holes in a four-under-par 31 and won the big money by three strokes. He finished with a nine-under-par 275.

Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., the defending champion who could have pocketed $10,700 with a repeat victory, settled for second place and won $3,700. The 27-year-old Finsterwald fired a 69 on the par 36-35-71 Flint Golf Club layout on the final round and wound up with a 278 total, three strokes behind Harney.

Bob Inman of Detroit was beaten out of a second place tie when Finsterwald dropped a 25-foot birdie putt on the final hole. Inman had 729 and collected $2,600.

Harney clipped a stroke off par on four holes coming home. "When I dropped in a 40-footer on No. 10 hole, I felt I could have a real good finish," he said. "But there never was a point when I felt I had it wrapped up."

Stepanic's Edge Herron's 2-1; Old Dutch Rips Hanoverton

By MARK MILLER

Stepanic's edged Herron's 2-1 in an 11-inning thriller and Old Dutch trounced Hanoverton 8-0 in a five-inning contest in city softball games played at Kelley Park Saturday night.

Gene Woodling led the blistering Indians' attack. He slammed an inside-the-park home run, two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate. He added a triple and a single in the second game.

Vic Wertz chipped in with a homer and a double good for three runs in the first game.

The Tribe won the second game 7-5 on the strength of Ray Narleski's three-run homer in the eighth. It was his first homer in the major leagues.

Narleski was pitching in relief of starter Mike Garcia, who was credited with his fourth victory.

The Indians trailed 2-1 until the sixth inning when Chico Carrasquel's double scored Dick Williams.

Don Mossi will pitch Tuesday opening game against the Yankees followed by Bob Lemon and Wynn.

Yankees Split With Chicago

Red Sox Take Pair; Cards, Orioles Win

By The Associated Press

Mickey Mantle's batting splurge is the big news in the American League as the New York Yankees slugger takes dead aim at an unprecedented second straight "triple crown."

Since the start of the stormy White Sox series in Chicago two weeks ago, the switcher has been manhandling pitching at a .500 clip.

He now leads the majors with a .392 batting average, tops both leagues with 21 home runs and trails Washington's Roy Sievers by only one run with his 51 runs batted in.

Mickey picked up 13 points Sunday with six hits in the double-header with Chicago.

Just when Dick Donovan appeared ready to become the first pitcher to shut out the Yankees this season—with a three-hitter going to the ninth inning of the second game, his defense failed him and Mantle hit one. Mickey's 21st homer into the third deck in right with two on unhinged Donovan and brought Paul LaPalme to the rescue. The left-handed knuckleball pitcher put down the Yanks, and the Sox won 4-3. The victory left Chicago half a game behind New York.

The Yanks won their 10th straight 9-2 in the opener, a ninth victory for Bobby Shantz and his eighth in succession. The little lefthander was helped by a 16-hit attack against loser Billy Pierce, Gerry Staley and LaPalme.

Cleveland clubbed Washington pitching for a total of 31 hits, 14 in the first game, to win a pair 14-2 and 7-5 for Early Wynn and Mike Garcia. Gene Woodling had four hits and a walk in the opener and even pitcher Ray Narleski got his first hit of the year—a homer—in the second.

Frank Malone and Ted Williams put on a hitting show at Boston, where the Red Sox also totaled 31 hits in thumping Kansas City 10-6 and 10-1. Malone collected five hits and Williams hit his 18th and 19th homers.

Baltimore shaded Detroit 5-4 on Jim Busby's tie-breaking homer. Ray Moore had three of the Orioles' 13 hits while going the route with a six-hitter.

St. Louis clung to a one-game lead in the ever-changing National League race. The Phillies, second Saturday night, dropped to fourth by losing a pair to Milwaukee, which took over second place.

Wally Moon drove in two runs with a triple and stole home in the Cardinals' 4-3 decision over Brooklyn. Larry Jackson won his ninth with help from Hoyt Wilhelm in the ninth.

Milwaukee downed the Phils 7-6 and 7-3 for Bob Buhl and Taylor Phillips but lost the services of Joe Adcock, who will be out for six or eight weeks due to a broken ankle. Hank Aaron's single won the first game in the ninth and Bill Bruton drove in three runs with a triple and double in the second.

Cincinnati's power, sputtering in recent weeks, came through with two homers in one game and three in the other of 5-3 and 5-2 victories over Pittsburgh. George Crowe hit a homer in each game among his six hits.

The New York Giants, who have taken a new lease on life on their western tour, won their fourth straight series. They knocked off Chicago 7-5 and 5-1 by beating the Cubs' two hot shot youngsters, 20-year-old Dick Drott and 21-year-old Moe Drabowsky. Johnny Antonelli won the first game and needed help. Curt Barclay struck out eight Cubs and missed a shutout in the second on Lee Walls' homer.

It was a rough Sunday on managers, especially in the National League. Bobby Bragan of Pittsburgh was chased for questioning a decision and so was Mayo Smith of the Phils. Freddie Hutchinson wasn't allowed to stay around long enough to see his league-leading Cardinals salt away their victory over Brooklyn. He got the heave-ho for disputing a pitch to Gino Cimoli.

Contests, Ball Game Mark Potters' Picnic Saturday

Seventy-two contestants parlayed their athletic prowess into cash prizes totaling $137.50 in 19 events Saturday at the 29th annual Potters' Picnic at Meyers Lake Park in Canton.

A team representing the D. E. McNicol China Co. at Clarksburg won the mythical "world's championship" of the pottery industry, defeating a Salem China Co. team, 9-8 in 11 innings.

The game drew about 3,500. The winning team shared $90 and the losers split $60.

Other events on the crowded program included a penny scramble for youngsters in three age brackets. Boys and girls 5 through 12 slid on the polished maple floor of the dance pavilion, scrambling for 2,500 pennies scattered by members of the picnic committee.

The traditional athletic events included everything from a 50 yard dash for youngsters from 7 to 9 to a 440-yard relay for young men. There were novelty events, too, like a baseball throwing contest for women, a three-legged race and a dash for officers of IBOP local unions.

Redlegs Blast Pirates 5-3, 5-2

Rap Out 5 Homers In Doubleheader

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Red leg home run machine is working again, and the Rhinelanders are winning games like they couldn't lose.

Two four-base blasts in the first game and three in the second powered the Reds to their second and third straight victories over Pittsburgh, 5-3 and 5-2, in Sunday's doubleheader.

First-sacker George Crowe led the way. His four-for-four performance in the opener included a three-run homer and a run-making single.

The bespectacled infielder got only two hits in the nightcap, but one of them was another homer he belted into the centerfield bleachers.

His first homer in the first inning of the opener and another by Frankie Robinson gave the Reds a quick 4-0 advantage.

Hal Jeffcoat, the reformed outfielder, had a rough spot in the third inning when the pirates touched him for four hits and three runs, including a run-producing double by Roberto Clemente and Bill Virdon's homer.

But a double by Gus Bell and Crowe's single accounted for an insurance marker in the fifth inning, and Jeffcoat protected the lead the rest of the way.

The Reds were in a third inning tie, 1-1, before turning on the power again in the second game.

Don Hoak broke the tie and accounted for two runs with his homer. Then came Crowe's four-base hit and Smokey Burgess closed out the scoring in the big inning with a smash to the right-field bleachers.

There were short tempers on both sides. Pirates Bob Purkey and Dee Fondy had to leave the second game for umpire-heckling, and Manager Bobby Bragan was thrown out of the opener after disputing a second-base call.

The Redlegs have a day off today. The New York Giants arrive here Tuesday night for the first of a three-game series.

100 INJURED BY TRAIN

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—The Sydney-Brisbane Express hurtled at full speed into Brisbane station Sunday while the engineer tugged the useless brake lever.

The diesel locomotive crashed through a heavy steel buffer and rammed halfway through a concrete wall above a busy city street, injuring 100 persons, most passengers in the first two cars.

WANT A RENT-FREE ESTATE

LONDON (AP)—The Earl of Tankerville has put his 11th century castle of 50 rooms and four towers rent free to any responsible tenant who agrees to keep up the place, and pay the taxes of about $472 a year.

The word tornado is derived from the Spanish "tronada," meaning thunderstorm.

'Down On The Farm'

News of Meetings, Helpful Hints For Farmers

'New Farm' Wheat Allotments
July 1 is the last date for accepting applications for "new farm" allotments for the 1958 winter wheat crop, according to L. L. Mott, chairman of the Mahoning County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, and Everett A. Fishel, chairman of the Columbiana County ASC office. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of the years 1955, 1956, and 1957, but on which wheat will be seeded for grain in 1958, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee. Application forms are available at the county office for use in filing such requests.

While an application form will be mailed to a farmer upon request, the farmer must complete the form and file it at the County ASC Office on or before the closing date, July 1, for 1958 winter wheat.

Factors to be considered by the County ASC Committee in determining the eligibility of applicants for "new farm" wheat allotments will include tillable acreage, type of soil, and topography of the farm; the operators farming system; the extent to which his livelihood depends on his farming operations; and the reason wheat has not been planted in any one of the 3 previous years.

Producers on farms which receive "new farm" wheat allotments will not be eligible for participation in the Soil Bank's Acreage Reserve program with respect to such "New Farm" allotments.

No request for a new farm allotment will be considered unless it is made in writing on or before the closing date July 1, 1957.

Hay and Pasture Day July 11
Agronomists at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station will stage a hay and pasture field day at Wooster July 11.

During the morning session, visitors will tour experimental plots at the agronomy farm and hear talks on alfalfa cutting schedules, planting forages in corn, fertilizer placement and rate of planting for corn, and crop residue management.

Afternoon tours will provide opportunity for visitors to see several phases of forage crop research. Problems of stand establishment will be discussed and experimental seeding equipment will be on display. Specialists will talk about companion crops, birdsfoot trefoil and summer seedings. A special feature will be a demonstration on the use of nitrogen fertilizer on legume grass mixtures.

Registration for the field day will begin at 9:30 a.m. (EST) at the agronomy center.

Veterans Guide

By Veterans Administration

Q — I want to sell my GI house because I just got a job in another city. Is it possible to find out in advance whether VA will restore my GI loan rights? Or must I wait until after I sell, and then find out?

A — You may find out in advance whether your GI loan benefit will be restored by making a request to the VA office that guaranteed your original loan and furnishing the reasons why you want to sell. Remember, however, your GI loan benefit cannot be restored until VA is relieved of responsibility on the original loan. You can accomplish this by paying the loan in full, or by having the new purchaser do so.

Q — My GI term insurance policy lapsed a month ago because I forgot to pay my premium. Will I need a physical examination in order to reinstate it?

A — Not necessarily. You may reinstate within three months from the date of lapse without taking a physical examination, providing you are in as good health as you were when the policy lapsed, and submit a signed statement to that effect to the VA.

Q — Part of my Korean Conflict military service was spent as a cadet at West Point. Does that time count toward my eligibility for Korean GI training?

A — No. Under the law, time spent as a cadet or midshipman in one of the Service academies may not count toward GI training eligibility.

Q — I am a "six-month enlistee," and I have just completed my active training duty. If I need VA hospital care, under what conditions could I get it?

A — For you to be eligible for VA hospitalization, you must have been discharged under other-than-dishonorable conditions for a line-of-duty disability, or you must be receiving compensation for a service-connected disability.

Questions And Answers

It is not unusual today for a woman to have her uterus or womb removed surgically for a variety of medical reasons, and hence today's first question is an important one.

Q — I am 35 years old and recently had my uterus removed. I have felt fine since but wonder if this will affect me in later years, particularly during the menopause. Please explain how the ovaries function without the uterus.

A — The uterus, or womb, is that portion of the female anatomy which carries the child prior to birth. It is connected by tubes with the two ovaries where the eggs are formed. The uterus is prepared to take the eggs from the ovaries by a cycle including periodic shedding. If the egg reaches the uterus at the proper time and is fertilized there, this cycle ceases until after the child is born.

When the womb is removed, the cycle ceases and the eggs are simply absorbed. However, the ovaries produce hormones having to do with what we commonly call femininity. If these are left intact at the time of the removal of the uterus (and this is usually the case), the ovaries will continue to release hormones into the system until the time of life when this secretion would normally start to lessen anyway.

Consequently, a woman of 35 who has had her uterus removed would not be able to become pregnant and would no longer have monthly periods, but would be unaffected in other ways. At the normal age of menopause, when the hormone secretion begins to lessen, she might have symptoms similar to others in this phase of life except, of course, for the failure of the periods.

Q — I am an active mother of two small children. Since the birth of the last I have been eating like a horse and have gained 20 pounds. My problem is sticking to a diet and I wonder if there is anything which will curb my appetite.

A — It is a quite common experience for a young mother to gain weight after the birth of a child. This is almost invariably the result of eating too much and the only solution for it is to diet.

No two people have exactly the same caloric requirements because of such things as size, energy expenditure and the like. It would be well for Mrs. S. to get an accurate diet adjusted to her own needs and then to stick with it.

There are some drugs available which depress the appetite, but I personally do not favor their use unless they are prescribed and supervised by a physician. In any event, the use of will power is also a necessity.

Q — My wife has had a heart ailment and was in the hospital for three weeks. She is now much improved but has to live on a saltless diet. How does one keep in good health on a saltless diet?

A — There is probably no way of cutting salt out of the diet entirely and consequently Mrs. S. is probably getting enough so that the reduction in salt will not interfere with her health.
